In the near future, a device called the Univiz that can seamlessly switch between augmented and virtual reality has revolutionized how people interact with the world and each other. It's inventor, Oreste Pax, is now the head of the largest company in the world, but he is facing a shareholder revolt. Pax's only hope for keeping control of his company lies with a new project he hopes will do for human cognition what the Univiz did for personal computing. However, unbeknownst to Pax, a brilliant sociopath called the Mechanic has unleashed a world-wide computer virus that is well on its way to tearing apart the fragile bonds holding human society together. Pax will soon be torn away from his concerns over his company's future by a mysterious society attempting to fight the virus with a quantum computer they call the Infinet. Pax will have to make a decision that will affect the future of the human race, and the choice of what to do is his, and his alone.

Past heartbreaks and failed love has hardened Candace's fearful heart. David, her current love interest, wants all of her including her broken heart. David won't settle for anything less. Being with one woman is new for him, but he feels that Candace is worth it. Dwight has a few skeletons in his closet, but he's unsure of how he should come clean about them. Co-Co is unpredictable and there's no telling how he'll react to his news. Co-Co must decide if the risk of pushing away his only living parent is worth losing his one true love. To complicate matters, Dwight's cousin Yasmine not only moves in with him, but she also moves in on everyone's turf, especially the Roberts brothers. With drama, deceit and desperation all around, will Candace and David's love survive the many obstacles that are thrown their way or will one or both of them succumb to temptation? Find out as we catch up with the gang from the bestselling "You're My Little Secret" series.
